FOOD AND DRINK HALL TO OFFER TOWN 'TASTE OF CITY CENTRE LIFE'

Venue at former indoor market will include restaurants, bars and live music space and will be showcase for local traders

Report by Henry James

WHEN Ormskirk's former indoor market is transformed into a food and drink hall, it will be a venue to rival those in Liverpool city centre, say the people behind the project.

A food hall, as well as six kitchens, an "immersive" games loft, bar area, private hire space, retail outlets and live music space will be created as part of the project which is due to open in the autumn.

Spanning across two floors, the site will showcase vendors from the local area and is being brought to the town by Ormskirk residents and hospitality operators Simon and Fiona Beer.

Simon, whose EPIC brand has a "proven track record of operating successful businesses" in and around Liverpool city centre, said: "We've been dreaming about doing this for many years."

"We want to reimagine this historic space with a modern concept that can thrive while emulating the success of similar sites in other UK market towns."

"Having been left abandoned for many years, we want to bring this space back to life and to what it was so well known for locally - a market building.

Ormskirk's Indoor Market will become a new food and drink venue this autumn.

"We'll be keeping its original features, such as the iconic clock face, as well as some of the signage that has been here since day one."

The project follows a six figure investment into the site on Moorgate, which was originally built back in 1903 as the home of Hesfords DIY & Gardening.

Up to 80 new jobs will be created for roles including the venue's general manager.

Fiona added: "Many people in this area have to travel into Liverpool if they want food, drinks, and entertainment on this scale, but that will no longer be the case."

"Ormskirk Food & Drink Market will offer a taste of the city centre, and the restaurants and bars that it has within it, much closer to home.

"Our brand ethos is Eat, Meet and Play, so whether it's family time, fun with friends, date nights or days out accompanied by your dog, this is a space for everyone to enjoy, all under one historic roof."

Ormskirk Food & Drink Market is currently on the lookout for local traders to take up residency in the new space, from the more established restaurateurs to those up and coming in the food and drink industry.

Fiona said: "This is a real opportunity to showcase what the area has to offer, and we can't wait to welcome everyone to see just what we have been working on for so long and to enjoy what Ormskirk Food & Drink Market is all about."

The cycleway in Skelmersdale

Sustainability award for cycleway scheme at Tawd Valley Park

Report by Henry James

A GROUND-breaking cycleway linking the shopping centre at Skelmersdale to residential areas and West Lancs College has won a regional award.

Tawd Valley Park Cycleway won a Chartered Institute of Highways and Transport North West award for environment and sustainability.

Lancashire County Council invested £500,000 in the 1.5km pathway, which was installed in 2020.

Its 3m-wide surface is made of a hi-tech recycled rubber-based material, including recycled tyres, which helps to make the surface safer and protect the environment.

County Councillor Shaun Turner, cabinet member for environment and climate change, said:

“This award is great news. We’ve used new, more environmentally friendly, techniques to build the cycleway. Unlike traditional pathways the material is porous so the ground beneath it can absorb water, preventing flooding and ensuring tree roots get enough water.”

“The surface also prevents puddles and ice from forming making it much safer in the winter. It is also now much easier to use for cyclists, runners, people on mobility scooters, wheelchair users and pedestrians.”

“We are improving our paths and cycleways all the time as part of plans to encourage more people to walk, run, and cycle, and cut down on car usage.”

“Schemes like this encourage walking, cycling, and other types of active travel, which improve people’s mental and physical health.”

Councillor Jenny Wilkie, cabinet member for street scene and green initiatives at West Lancs Borough Council, added: “As a council, we are always looking for ways to be more sustainable, and I’m delighted to hear the cycle track has won this award.”

“It’s incredibly important to make cycling an attractive alternative to the car and schemes such as this can lead the way in helping people make that transition to more sustainable ways of travel.”

Cleaning work at United Utilities site results in return of dreaded ‘Parbold Pong’

THE borough’s MP Rosie Cooper has once again had to raise concerns with United Utilities, after residents reported a return of the dreaded ‘Parbold Pong’.

People living in Parbold and the surrounding area have repeatedly had to deal with this unpleasant smell coming from the nearby Wigan Waste Water Treatment Works site.

In the past, Ms Cooper has held many meetings, worked with residents and United Utilities to find ways that the water company can keep the smell to a minimum or warn nearby residents when an unavoidable smell is likely to occur.

This month, however, residents reported a ‘significant odour’ but received no prior notice from United Utilities. After they contacted the company’s chief executive, UU then issued an apology for not warning them of the routine cleaning works that caused the smell and ‘are now working to improve the situation’.

Rosie Cooper MP commented: “No one wants to have their day ruined by a foul smell surrounding their home. Without an early warning system ‘Parbold Pong’ causes even more problems for residents.”

“I continue to push for United Utilities to keep their promises and to do everything in their power to keep the smells to a minimum. It is also critical that they can give residents fair warning when they expect there to be a bad odour.”

“I am glad to hear that UU are meeting with the Parish Council, Environmental Health officers and the Environment Agency to work on a plan to collaboratively address these issues. This time let’s hope they keep to the plan and their promises.”

Residents who experience odour which they feel may be emanating from the Water Treatment site should call UU’s 24 hour contact centre on 0345 672 3723.

Ryan Abbot with his son Arthur.

Dad’s unusual world record attempt is inspired by his son who has cystic fibrosis

Ryan will take on 140 mile triathlon while breathing only through his nose

Report by Henry James

INSPIRED by his son Arthur, seven, who has cystic fibrosis, Skelmersdale resident Ryan Abbott is hoping to create a new world record with a 140.6 mile triathlon attempt on Sunday, September 11.

However, Ryan is planning to tackle the event – a 2.4 mile swim, a 112 mile bike ride and a 26.22 mile run – breathing only through his nose.

The whole ‘Big Nose Challenge,’ which will start at the Three Sister’s Water Ski Club in Bryn, near Wigan, will be completed in one day in the north-west of England.

Ryan will tackle the 2.4 mile swim, wearing a snorkel adapted to prevent him from breathing through his mouth.

He will then cycle along the Leeds and Liverpool canal before joining the road at Burscough and then loop through the surrounding countryside by road to complete the 112 mile ride.

Ryan will finally run 26.2 miles along the canal to complete the 140.6 mile challenge, in Wigan.

He will do it all just breathing through his nose, only opening his mouth while moving to eat or drink.

Ryan will be raising money for Cystic Fibrosis Care, a charity that provides essential services and equipment, practical help and support to children and adults with CF as well as their families and Specialist Care Centres. Cystic fibrosis (CF) is a progressive, genetic condition that causes thick, sticky mucus to build up in the lungs, pancreas and other organs. This can lead to inflammation and respiratory infections, digestive issues and a range of other complications.

His son Ryan was diagnosed with cystic fibrosis at five weeks old so Ryan understands the challenges and worries that CF can bring to patients and their families.

In recent years Ryan has been on a mission to learn all the tools, hacks and ways to be able to support not only his son’s health but his own mental, physical and emotional wellbeing.

When he started to realize the benefits of conscious functional breathing he decided he wanted to share, teach, guide and inspire others to implement this way of breathing for themselves.

This huge World Record Breaking challenge is just one part of his ongoing mission.

Back of the net for Olly as he wins a football scholarship in the USA

Report by Henry James

A TEENAGER from Skelmersdale has gained a college football scholarship in the USA.

Olly Byrne is to start this month at the highly-regarded Neosho Community College in Kansas.

Olly, who trains with 7 Elite Academy in Liverpool, said: “Anthony Godfrey, who is the 7 Elite Academy technical director, pulled me and a few of the other lads into the office at college.

“We thought we were in trouble at first! But when he told us what we would be doing over the next six months, it was a real mix of emotions. We were all made up of course, but also nervous about what was coming up.”

A few weeks later, Olly and his team-mates – Jack Pearce, Dylan Seddon and Lucas Allan were on their way to Utah to train with their 04 SABA team-mates.

It was the start of a remarkable six months, that would include intense coaching, tournaments and university visits.

Olly said: “In total I did five trips that included multiple cities and states such as Salt Lake City, Florida, North Carolina, Las Vegas, St George, Richmond and Nevada. The other lads did a similar number.

“We played in a lot of really high-quality tournaments and the players we met, both on our team and in other teams, we absolutely brilliant. We formed bonds and made memories that will last a lifetime.”

Once back home Olly soon learned the good news that he had been offered a scholarship at Neosho.

Olly now lives in the town of Chanute, while studying over the next two years. If all the conditions are met, he will have the option of playing and studying in the United States for a further two years.

Olly added: “My family were over the moon when I started getting scholarship offers. They pushed me as much as they could and supported me in chasing my dreams.

“I am so grateful for that they have done. They are my Number One supporters.”

Hand feeding of birds is back at Martin Mere Wetland Centre

WILDFOWL & Wetlands Trust Martin Mere Wetland Centre, the nature reserve in Burscough, has received the green light to allow visitors to hand feed birds again.

It comes after almost a year of hand feeding being taken off the list of activities at the centre, following Government guidelines and to protect the captive collection from the spread of avian flu.

Nick Brookes, general manager at WWT Martin Mere, said: "We know our visitors have missed being able to hand feed the birds and have been eagerly waiting to hear the news that it's returning to the centre.

"We are pleased to announce that we can offer this experience again."

People will be able to get closer to and feed flamingos, swans, geese, and many ducks such as the shelduck, white-faced whistling duck, indian runner duck, and tufted duck.

Rail company urging parents to look out for Education Season Tickets

WITH 11-16-year-olds across Lancashire preparing to go back to school in September, Northern is urging parents to do their homework and find out about the Education Season Tickets on offer for their child's commute.

The train operator has teamed-up with 124 secondary schools and university technical colleges across the length and breadth of its network - including Burscough Priory Science College and Ormskirk School - to offer the special season ticket, which offers their students up to 75% off the normal adult fare.

On some routes in Lancashire, the savings are worth as much as £397 per year.

Education Season Tickets offer unlimited travel between two stations and are valid seven days a week. As such, they can be used at weekends and during the holidays - not just the 195 days per year that schools are open.

Mark Powles, customer and commercial director at Northern, said: "Parents can save hundreds of pounds per year by investing in an Education Season Ticket at the start of the academic year.

"They'll also be able to rest assured their child will always have the means to get to and from school - and they won't have to scramble around for the train fare each morning."

For a full list of participating schools and to purchase an Education Season Ticket for the new academic year, visit the website: www.northernrailway.co.uk/tickets/educational-season

Town centre all set for the first Ormskirk Bank Holiday Festival

‘This will be a real feel-good weekend with our fantastic markets at its heart’

Report by Henry James

THIS Sunday (August 28) will see the first Ormskirk Bank Holiday Festival come to town.

Organisers say the festival will have a “relaxed and family-friendly feel” with live music and acts over two separate stages, food and drink to enjoy, artisan offerings as well as community stalls.

There will also be demonstrations by Lancashire Fire and Rescue and ‘have a go’ swimming and gym session at Park Pool for just £1 with a the chance to win swimming sessions or a gym membership.

Street acts will also provide entertainment mingling with visitors throughout the town.

The event will kick off with the Moor Street Night Market on Friday evening with street food, drinks and live music, before Saturday’s traditional market welcomes shoppers.

The Night Market will make it an afternoon to remember on Sunday as they return to celebrate the long weekend while the popular Ormskirk Artisan Market will complement the Festival event programme by showcasing the region’s makers, bakers, artists and creatives.

Celebrations will run from 11am to 6pm after which The Chapel on St Helens Road will carry on the entertainment with food and music from 5.30 until 9pm.

Musical group, Jeramiah Ferrari, will headline the Sunday event. Seasoned festival stage performers, they have forged a reputation for live sets, fusing styles of reggae, rock, ska and pop.

Expect a great calypso-ska style dancing party with the band who have supported The Wailers and have previously toured with Madness and UB40 and have performed at several major festivals around the country.

Councillor Adam Yates, cabinet member for economic regeneration, said: “This will be a brilliant new addition to the events calendar in the borough. It will be a real feel-good weekend with our fantastic markets at its heart.”

Jeramiah Ferrari

“This is a great example of partnership working and we’re delighted to be supporting this event which has been driven by town centre businesses looking for new ways to enhance Ormskirk’s cultural offer.”

Councillor Gareth Dowling, deputy leader of the council and cabinet member for communities added: “Massive thanks must go to our officers, town centre businesses, the Night Market and Artisan Market and other community groups who have come together at short notice to launch this festival, free of charge for residents to enjoy.”

“The council is proud to be trying new things while retaining the focus on Ormskirk’s historic market town reputation and promoting our great markets.”

Mayor impressed after visit to learning disability charity

WEST Lancs Mayor Marilyn Westley was left impressed after a visit to learning disability charity Midstream to see what the organisation offers to young people and adults.

Accompanied by High Sheriff Martin Ainscough and Mayoress Doreen Stephenson, the Mayor toured the Skelmersdale-based charity on Wednesday, August 17, to see each of the developments that the charity has undertaken since her last visit several years ago, including each of the vocational work areas and the Pathways to Adulthood classrooms.

The visitors were also shown the area set aside for Midstream’s planned upcoming expansion, which will include new catering and dining areas.

The charity’s clients, who are predominantly young people and adults with learning disabilities, enjoyed meeting with the VIPs, who made sure to stop and chat and find out more about what they like about attending Midstream and the support offered to them.

Anita Cooke, Midstream’s chief executive said: “We were absolutely delighted to host the High Sheriff of Lancashire and the Mayor and Mayoress of West Lancs here at Midstream. I am extremely proud of all of our client’s achievements and this was a fantastic opportunity to showcase some of their work. It was an engaging visit and one that I feel both our service users and staff alike enjoyed!”

After their tour, the VIPs enjoyed afternoon tea at Midstream’s onsite cafe, also sampling homemade jam and rhubarb and strawberry crumble, made with fruit grown by Midstream’s horticulture department.

Midstream’s operations manager, Mark Saxon said of the Mayor and High Sheriff’s visit: “They were clearly very impressed with everyone they met, the range of activities being offered at Midstream and the warmth shown by those they spoke with.”

Residents to become first in world to get Covid-19 variant jab

New vaccine to be offered to most vulnerable next month

Report by Henry James

PEOPLE living in Lancashire will soon be among the first in the world to receive the new Covid-19 variant jab when the autumn booster vaccine programme begins in early September.

Set to start during the week of September 5, NHS staff will begin vaccinating care home residents and people who are housebound.

The NHS will offer people the new next-generation bivalent vaccine where appropriate and subject to sufficient supply being made available.

The National Booking Service will also open that week ahead of the wider rollout, due to start on September 12, with the NHS inviting those who are most susceptible to serious illness from Covid-19 and those aged 75 and over to book an appointment from that week.

Jane Scattergood, lead for the vaccination programme in Lancashire and South Cumbria, said: "I would urge everyone who is eligible to get this vaccine as soon as they possibly can. The world has moved forward but Covid-19 is still a horrible virus that can make you seriously ill. The best way to protect yourself is to get every vaccine that is offered to you."

As with previous campaigns, the oldest and most vulnerable will be called forward first, with people able to book in online or through 119 as long as it has been three months since their last dose.

More than four in five eligible people received a spring booster earlier this year and the NHS urged those people to get that dose before the end of July in order to ensure enough time had passed to optimise the protection an autumn booster would provide over the winter period.

Jane Scattergood (left), lead for the Covid-19 vaccination programme in Lancashire and South Cumbria is urging anyone eligible to get the jab

Health experts have stressed that the original vaccines also continue to provide great protection and people should come forward regardless of the vaccine offered.

The NHS will also roll out the flu vaccine and encourage eligible people to take up the offer from the first of the month where possible.

Eligible people may be offered the flu and Covid-19 jab at the same time, with the doses approved to be co-administered.

Health and social care staff will also be eligible to get the autumn booster in line with JCVI guidance and in order to ensure NHS staff are protected, all providers are being asked to ensure their staff are offered the autumn jab, co-administering with the flu jab where possible.

Arriva strike ends after 11.1% pay rise accepted by union

Unite hails 'magnificent win' for workers

Report by Henry James

ARRIVA North West bus drivers are back at work after ending their strike action.

The dispute over pay was brought to an end after 29 days when a fresh 11.1% offer was made by bus company bosses.

An initial offer of a 9.6% pay rise was rejected by more than three quarters of drivers in the GMB union. Around 1,800 workers have now returned to work following the result of a ballot on Friday, August 19.

George Patterson, GMB Organiser, said: "GMB members at Arriva should be very proud of themselves. By standing together they've won themselves the pay rise they deserve."

"It's just disappointing it took five weeks of financial hardship and public inconvenience to get there – especially as the company had the finances to fund the pay rise the whole time."

Unite regional officer Dave Roberts said: "Following our members' very strong rejection of the company's initial offer, Arriva have seen sense and met the demands of our members by tabling an 11.1% pay deal."

"The determination and resolve of our members has been solid throughout the industrial action and we thank those who have provided support and assistance to secure the offer from the company."

A statement from Arriva North West said: "We are able to confirm that following ongoing discussions in recent weeks, all parties have come to an agreement on an unprecedented pay deal for Arriva North West drivers."

Arriva buses are now back on the road

"Arriva would like to thank our customers across the North West region, for your continued patience in recent weeks, during the extremely challenging strike period."

Unite's 2,043 members across 11 Merseyside garages voted overwhelmingly (by nearly 10 to one) to accept the 11.1 per cent offer, worth an additional average of £2,300 on the workers' salaries, equal to an extra £55 per week.

Hailing the victory, Unite general secretary Sharon Graham, said: "Our members stood strong for a month. They thoroughly deserve their magnificent victory. This is how Unite responds to the cost of living crisis, with a win that will put an extra £55 per week in our members' wallets."

The dispute is now settled at all of the Arriva North West garages in Merseyside: Southport, Bootle, Green Lane, St Helens, Speke, Runcorn, Bolton, Wythenshawe, Winsford, Wirral and Macclesfield.

Blaze fears after yobs set fire to fields near houses

The fire started by yobs in the fields at the back of houses in Mill Lane, Up Holland

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS in Up Holland fear their houses could be set ablaze after yobs set fire to dry land at the back of their homes.

Photographs show a circle of flame on farm land off Mill Lane in the village on the evening of Tuesday, August 16 and this was just the latest of several such incidents.

One resident said: "Setting fire to fields right next to housing could cause a disaster.

"The fields are close to trees and fences at the back of houses.

"The people who did this are stupid and have a mindless mentality.

"They should be taken to task. Their actions could have destroyed houses - and someone could have been burnt.

"Words fail me. The fire spread by around 50 square metres.

"My neighbours are fuming. Some of them keep pets, which could have been caught up in the fire.

"The yobs tried to do something similar the week before, but ran off when the police came."

A spokesperson for Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service confirmed they had attended a number of incidents in the area, this month.

The spokesperson said: "Setting fire to fields is dangerous no matter what time of day.

"During dry weather, the fires can spread quickly and catch people unaware and could injure them.

"It is dangerous to do something like this.

"It could also take firefighters away from other, potentially more serious, fires."

More than 1,000 refugees from Ukraine homed in Lancashire

RESIDENTS, volunteers and many organisations across the county have been thanked for their part in helping the people of Ukraine, as Lancashire welcomes its 1,000th arrival.

Over the past six months, hundreds of individual and families fleeing Ukraine following the invasion of Russia have begun a new life in Lancashire via the Homes for Ukraine scheme.

Lancashire Refugee Integration Team and Lancashire Resilience Forum are coordinating the county-wide response, which also includes accessing healthcare, welfare and schools.

A total of 541 sponsors in Lancashire have been matched with 1,342 people via the scheme and 1,002 people have arrived in the county so far.

It comes as the people of Ukraine prepare to celebrate the Independence Day of Ukraine today (August 24) - six months to the day from Russia's invasion.

With County Hall set to be lit up in yellow and blue in a show of solidarity, Lancashire County Council leader Cllr Philippa Williamson, said: "From the very outset of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, Lancashire has stood firm in its support with our European neighbours.

"Through the kindness of our residents, the UK Government has been able to find homes in our county for more than a thousand individuals who desperately need one.

"For this, on behalf of everyone at the county council, thank you. I would also like to thank the many organisations and volunteers who have been working round the clock to make sure our new guests settle into their new lives in Lancashire."

Students from Ormskirk School receive their A Level results

Students celebrate A-level results after disrupted studies

Rachel McKinney will study Veterinary Medicine at Cambridge University

Report by Henry James

STUDENTS ACROSS West Lancashire have been receiving their A-level results.

The vast majority of this year's graduates would have embarked on their courses in 2020, so their studies would have been affected by Covid-19.

However, teachers at Ormskirk School have said the class of 2022 have achieved the "best results seen at the college for a considerable number of years."

This year's results are better than 2021 where teacher assessed grades saw a 20% national increase.

This year, with the return of formal exams, 28% of grades have been awarded at A*-A and a 52% at A*-B. Ormskirk school added that students also "surpassed their predictions", bucking the national trend which is currently reported in the region of 10% lower than teacher predictions.

A spokesperson, added: "This has ensured a genuine atmosphere of celebration for university and vocational pathways including; Rachel McKinney, 4 A*'s going onto to study Veterinary Medicine at Cambridge University, Georgia Martin going on to study Spanish and English also at Cambridge, Caitlyn Routledge 4 A's going on to study Environmental Science at York, Ryan Brown, 2A*2A going on to study Physics at Edinburgh University and Ella Walsh who got BBC and is going on to do a degree apprenticeship in Accounting."

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

We should stand in solidarity with Arriva bus drivers

I was very concerned at the one-sided article on the Arriva bus drivers strike.

Arriva are making loads of profits (which goes back to its German owners by the way).

The drivers have not had a pay rise for three years and it wasn't long ago that we were applauding them, together with NHS staff, as key workers keeping our country going during the pandemic.

The Arriva statement that unions were not allowing their members to vote on a renewed offer was not questioned, it was just printed as if it was a press release.

The 'renewed offer' was exactly the same as the original offer, which was rejected by union members.

I sympathise with people who are suffering with the disruption of bus services.

But, Arriva are making enough profits to afford to make a better offer to their drivers.

I wouldn't like to drive a bus, with no toilet facilities and the prospect of trouble making passengers.

We should all stand in solidarity with the drivers and put the blame fairly with Arriva for this dispute.

Ron Cooper,
Skelmersdale,

Clapping won't pay nurses' bills

Nurses, including myself, who worked and caught Covid quite badly, are on but-tons and are now few in numbers.

I enjoy being a nurse but do it as a job, not a vocation.

Well done to the bus drivers: 11% pay rise demand and well deserved with 60 plus passengers to ferry about.

Clapping and patronisation doesn't put food in mouths.

Nurses need help too.

PD,
Maghull

Barclays won't survive without its customers

After the recent news that Barclays Bank is set to shut its Ormskirk branch which is not long after they closed my local branch in Skelmersdale, I would urge every Barclays customer in our region to contact the bank themselves to complain about the closures.

We will all need in branch services at some stage of our lives and we have a large pensioner population who rely on the branch who either can't or don't want to use on-line banking.

For the bank to site reduced footfall during a pandemic when they opened the branches on reduced hours is just lies, it doesn't take a genius to figure out footfall would reduce if the services are reduced.

Stop taking us for fools!

These big businesses rely on our hard earned money being paid into the banks and are forgetting without us they wouldn't survive.

I will be looking elsewhere for abank that values their customers.

M Dimmock,
Skelmersdale

Please cut back your bushes as they obscure the lights!

Could I through your paper ask the residents at three of the houses living at the corner of Long Lane and Prescott Road in Aughton if they would cut back the bushes that are obscuring the traffic lights there.

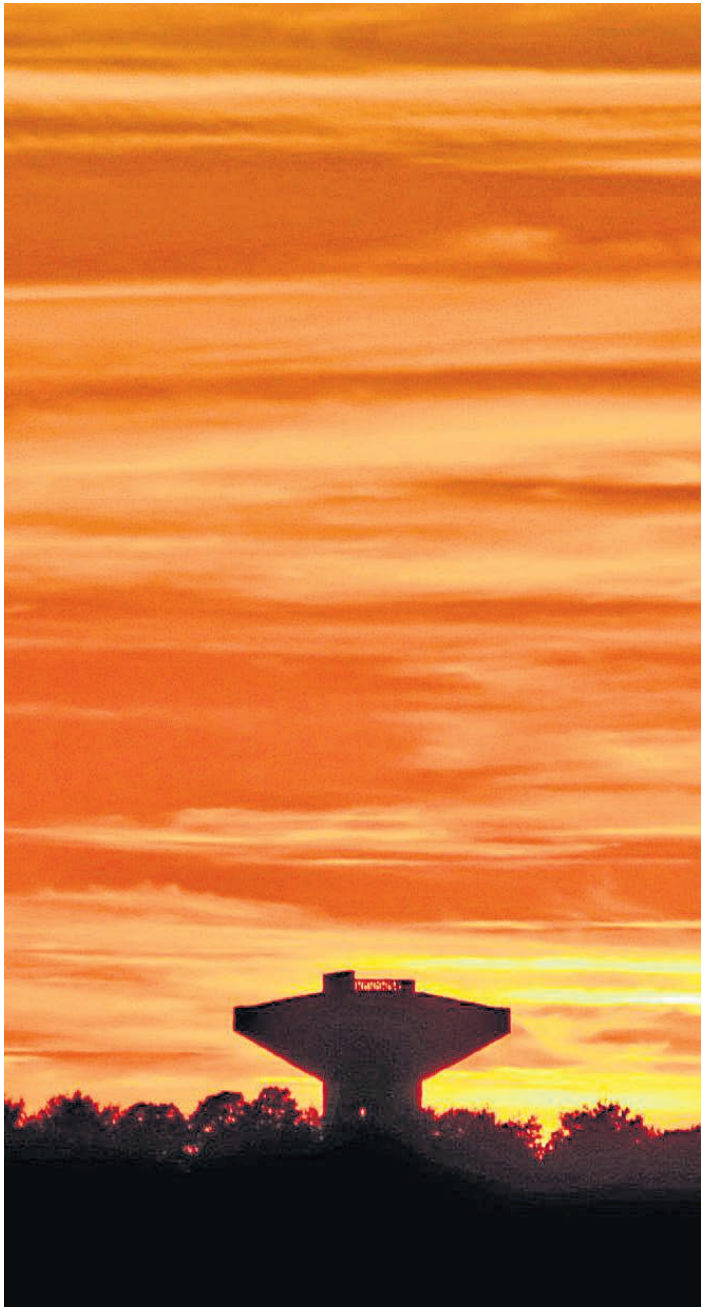

Some are only visible when you are almost at the junction and drivers really need all the help they can be given to approach the lights safely, especially as many cars approach the cross roads too fast.

Throughout the district there are many hedges and trees encroaching onto the pavement.

Perhaps now is a good time for everyone to start walking out to the front of their gardens to see what tidying up needs to be done to help both drivers and pedestrians to drive and walk in safety.

Concerned local resident,

Veterans need more support to battle cost of living crisis

HELP for Heroes is having to support more and more veterans across Lancashire with grants to help pay energy and food bills as the cost-of-living crisis continues to bite.

Along with interest rates continuing to rise, the armed forces charity is increasing the funds available – to support immediate needs – and meet the anticipated increase in requests for help.

Nationally, the charity has already paid out grants worth more than £12,500, in the period from April to June, and has helped support almost 100 individuals this year, who would otherwise have struggled to make ends meet. Help for Heroes' welfare teams have witnessed for themselves the toll this is taking on veterans and their families.

The charity's average award in the first half of this year was £150, for food only, but the average since then has been £380, which has included an allowance for energy, where there was a clear need.

Veterans or close relatives in urgent need of help with food and energy bills can get support from Help for Heroes at helpforheroes.org.uk/get-help.

Claire Barnes (pictured below), who is head of grants at Help for Heroes, said: "Without doubt, what we are currently seeing is just the tip of the iceberg. Many of our veterans are feeling particularly vulnerable."

"The impact of the changes in the economic climate means they are facing cuts to their benefits, as well as needing more energy to meet their basic needs."

"We are also witnessing an increase in anxiety from veterans and families about how they will make ends meet, in a way that doesn't compromise their basic quality of life. Those with pre-existing mental health issues may well face more anxiety in just trying to live day to day. Our funds are not endless, but we must work with our veterans and families to do all we can to reduce the anxieties they are experiencing."

Camera Club to snap up new members!

IF residents are looking to develop their hobby in photography or resurrect a past interest, then Ormskirk Camera Club could be for you!

They are reopening their doors at the Guide Hut on Moor-gate at 8pm on Thursday, September 8.

The club has a number of photographers with a wealth of knowledge and expertise with varying levels of ability.

They encourage everyone from the beginner to the more experienced photographer and provide a number of informative presentations from speakers throughout the country.

They also hold regular club and inter club competitions which usually give rise to lively debates among members!

Throughout the month of September, some of the club members will have their work displayed in Ormskirk Library.

People can also join their meetings via Zoom.

Their website is ormskirkcameraclub.weebly.com which will provide all the details individuals may need.

Injury-hit Skem crash out of FA Cup

Skelmersdale United 1
Prescot Cables 3

Burscough 2
Barnoldswick Town 3

SKELMERSDALE United's FA Cup dream is over for another year as they were comprehensively beaten by neighbours Prescot Cables, writes Kevin Panther.

After just ten minutes Kyle Sambor found space and made sure from close range to put Cables one up.

A long raking ball on 40 minutes found the Cables' number nine John Murphy and his driven shot left Coughlan with no chance as he made it 2-0.

It got worse for Skem on half time when a well worked free kick straight off the training ground left everyone flat-footed apart from Murphy who struck home for the Cables third and killer goal.

With 15 minutes remaining there was a brief spark for United as Joe and Josh Nicholson combined well, and after Darren Brannigan had dispossessed Alex Gofon to set up Elliott Morris, the young blues striker was calm to neatly finish to make it 3-1 but there was to be no further score.

Skem manager Paul McNally said: "I know we had key players in all areas missing, but the side we put out was still capable of getting something out of the game. We were well beaten by a good Cables side and good luck to them in the next round."

BURSCOUGH battled back from going 3-0 down but couldn't quite find a decisive equaliser, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

First-half goals from Eli Hey and James Ormrod gave the visitors from East Lancashire a 2-0 interval lead.

When Hey made it 3-0 on 72 minutes it looked all over.

But Burscough had other ideas and within seconds of the restart Eddie Servuts pulled it back to 3-1.

Burscough continued to press and ten minutes from the end Servuts bagged a second goal to complete his brace and it was game on.

The Linnets pushed hard but Barnoldswick held on to deny the hosts a point that their fight back could be said to have been deserved.

On Thursday night, Burscough were beaten 2-0 by Lower Breck.

SCOTT
ANNE
MARGARET

The family of the late Anne Margaret Scott wish to thank all those who sent Mass cards and messages of condolence in their recent sad loss.

Special thanks are due to Dr Al-Dahiri at Norwood Surgery and to the staff of Dovecote Manor and The Brunswick, whose loving and professional care was hugely appreciated.

Thanks to Fr Kevin McLoughlin and Fr Philip Gregory for the consoling Requiem Mass and to all who attended at church and at the committal.

Thanks to M. Rushton Funeral Directors for their supportive and dignified services.

Southport's celebration of speed is back

THE HOWL of race-tuned Jaguars and carefully fettled fast Fords thundering up Southport's seafront could be hitting your eardrums pretty soon.

That's the big pitch for Southport's Classic & Speed, which returns to the resort next month following its inaugural outing last year. Last weekend the event's organisers got in touch to confirm that they're looking to close a half-mile section of Marine Drive as part of this year's event. It's an intriguing new spinoff for the resort's celebration of motoring, especially as Aintree Circuit Club's other well-known event, the Ormskirk MotorFest, isn't going ahead with its usual August Bank Holiday weekend outing this year. In other words, if you turn up to the West Lancashire town's one-way system this Sunday expecting any single-seaters to be buzzing around, you're going to be disappointed.

It'll be great to see motorsport-prepared classics powering up Marine Drive instead, but it's worth mentioning that while the marshals will be treating it as they would any other motorsport event, with some prohibited areas on the inland side of the road for safety reasons, the runs will be a strictly controlled, low-speed affair, with none of the entries being timed and no one being given prizes for being the quickest. A pre-invited cast of cars will be flagged off at one-minute intervals from the Southport Offshore Rescue Trust centre en-route to the area where the pier threads its way through the Ocean Plaza, and while it will be worth watching it won't be competitive.

The event includes the chance to see classics being paraded along Southport Promenade

It's effectively a test bed for 2023's follow-up event, and Aintree Circuit Club is already talking to the relevant people at Sefton Council about how the seafront can be turned into a sprint course this time next year. That'd be really exciting to watch, and it has some historical precedent too; long before the Coastal Road was built, this stretch of road was used for exactly that purpose, so it's a neat way of bringing some of the north west's motoring heritage back to life.

Of course, even without the seafront demonstration runs there's plenty to make it worth jotting in your diary, including all of the elements that stood out from the event's maiden voyage. So that means lots of cars and bikes going on show in Victoria Park, and the chance to see a copious cast of classics being put through their paces along the Promenade and Lord Street.

And the best bit is that it costs...absolutely nothing. I've seen too many car shows struggling with dwindling attendance and rising admission prices this summer as their organisers – just like the rest of us – grapple with the cost of living crisis, but this is genuinely a day of petrolhead fun that you can enjoy without having to stick your hand in your pocket.

Sounds good to me. Get Sunday, 11 September jotted down in the diary...

VOLKSWAGEN'S new all-electric van could be on your driveway for £479 a month. That's the lease price for the ID. Buzz Cargo, which behind the Fifties-inspired two-tone paintwork has a 77kWh battery and electric motor producing 204bhp and capable of a 256-mile range. You can also buy it outright for £38,125, with that price including the first three services and its first year's MoT. Go to www.volkswagen.co.uk to find out more.

A HOTTED-UP version of Audi's performance-focused estate is available to order next month. The RS4 Competition has a sports exhaust, Pirelli P Zero Corsa tyres, sharper steering and revamped engine management software to help it reach 180mph, with its turbocharged 2.9-litre V6 sending 450bhp to all four wheels. To get one of these track-focused Audi load-luggers you'll need £84,600 but be quick, because only 75 are being sent to the UK.
